"If I have been able to see further, it was only because I stood on the shoulders of giants."

Sir Isaac Newton in Letter to Robert Hooke

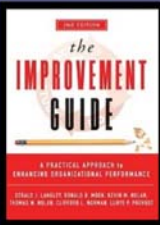

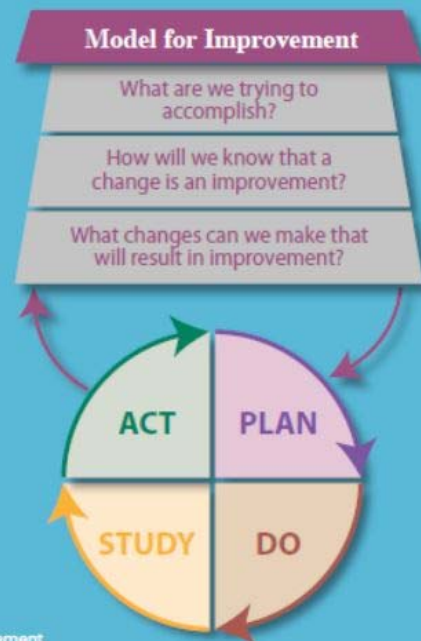

AN ACCELERATED MODEL FOR IMPROVEMENT (AMI™)

During the 1960's, when the Diagnostic and Remedial Journeys were introduced by Juran as quality improvement methodologies, taking the time to analyze the situation, using diagnostic tools to uncover issues, was a good first step to understanding what to do.

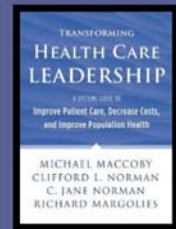

By the 1990's the rate of change had started to increase and Six Sigma, which grew out of these methodologies, became popular - applying such diagnostic tools and methods with mechanical rigor. Into the late 2000's, Lean tools with their focus on waste reduction, became widely used.

Now we are in a competitive and technological marketplace where solutions to business issues that take 9 months to 2 years to develop can easily be obsolete in this time-frame. The need to accelerate improvement has forced us to reconsider the methods that were established more than 20 years ago and has led to the Accelerated Model For Improvement (Ami™) developed by API and PKP Inc. that brings the strengths of all of these past methodologies and more. We can help you drive improvement with speed! You will be able to deliver sustainable results in 90-100 days*. Contact us to learn more.

* Some projects may take longer, if they are larger, very complex, or are not supported appropriately by management

With more than 100 collective years of experience in Improvement Science, Profound Knowledge Partners Asia and our associates can bring you solutions. We have worked extensively in many industries, including: Consumer distribution and retail; Electronics manufacturing and export; Mechanical engineering, tooling and plastics, Automotive, Computing hardware and services, Textiles, Food and beverage, Building services (lighting, electrical and data), and Healthcare and can bring solutions to you and your organization.
